Andrews Federal Presents Financial Literacy Seminars at Rowan College

Suitland, MD (May 17, 2017): Andrews Federal Credit Union’s Stan Koussis, Community Development Manager and Jennifer Fiore, Mt. Laurel Branch Manager, recently presented “The Psychology of Spending: Why We Buy” financial literacy seminars at Rowan College at Burlington County.

Attendees learned how to save money by gaining a better understanding of their spending habits, attitudes and values.

“We are very concerned about the financial health of our students, which is why Rowan College at Burlington County is the most affordable college in the state,” Rowan College at Burlington County President Paul Drayton said. “Our popular 3+1 program provides a way for students to save $75,000 while earning a Rowan University degree and avoiding high college debt and has been called one of the top college affordability initiatives in the country by Money Magazine.”
