

Funds Availability Policy

GENERAL POLICY

We will delay the availability of funds from your check deposits. During the delay, you may not withdraw the funds in cash and we will not use the funds to pay checks that you have written or debits that you have authorized.

The General Availability Schedule as described below and other delays as described herein, applies to Deposits made to transaction accounts (i.e. your checking account). The credit union reserves the right to delay the availability of funds deposited to accounts that are not transaction accounts, such as your savings account, for periods longer than those disclosed in this agreement.

DETERMINING THE AVAILABILITY OF A DEPOSIT

The length of the delay is counted in business days from the day of your Deposit. Every day is a business day except Saturdays, Sundays, and federal holidays. If you make a Deposit before the end of the business day, on a business day that we are open, we will consider that day to be the day of your Deposit. However, if you make a Deposit on a day that we are not open, we will consider that Deposit to have been made on the next business day we are open. The length of the delay varies depending on the type of Deposit and is explained below. If you make a Deposit at a night depository on a day we are not open, we will consider the day of deposit to be the next business day. The length of the delay may vary depending on the type of the deposit and is explained below. Longer delays may apply, and different rules apply for checks deposited to accounts opened for less than 30 days (i.e., new accounts). Availability applies to your aggregate deposit(s) made to an account in a business day.

However, we will make the first $200 from your aggregate Deposit(s) available for withdrawal on or before the first business day after we receive your deposit.

LONGER DELAYS MAY APPLY

If we accept for deposit a check that is drawn on another bank, we may make funds from the deposit available for withdrawal immediately but delay your availability to withdraw a corresponding amount of funds that you have on deposit in another account with us.
